Simulation is a very useful experience,
This should be provided to every professional

A single window to the art, science and philosophy of project management. Memorable experience of simulation programs that could motivate any professional. - Dr. Manu Korulla, DRDO

Why are real time simulations from Prendo UK at the center stage of I-PMTEA ?

People learn by doing

Complex skills can only be developed by
(a) making decisions or taking actions.
(b) experiencing the consequences & then.
(c) figuring out what happened, why & then.

Simulations are essential in many professions

Pilots, military strategists & surgeons, for example, have long understood the importance of simulating their activities in order to improve their performance and reduce the risk of failure in the real world.

The most powerful learning method to address these many challenges is advanced simulation, because participants must take decisions & can see the consequences.

The next generation of leaders in particular are looking for live experience through project management simulations like pilots do through flight simulators.

Simulations are better than real world experience

In contrast with using real projects and real organisations as their practice grounds, when mistakes can be very expensive, simulations are faster, lower risk, lower cost, and crucially, more effective.

...knowledge that is actually implemented is much more likely to be acquired from learning by doing than from learning by reading, listening or even thinking
