

MANAGEMENT POLICY

i2P2M aims to establish itself as the foremost certification organization globally, providing “Made in India” Project Management Certifications that cover all round global inputs with focus on Indian scenario.

Our mission is to create future leaders and managers with world class certification credentials through impeccable integrity, impartiality, confidentiality and professionalism.

Objectives

- 1. To equip project leaders, managers, and professionals from all sectors as well as engineering graduates, trainees and students to handle the complexity of tomorrow by building their Knowledge, Competency and Leadership through acquiring of project management certification. We could measure the better prospects for employability and to see the positive impact at their work place by savings in time and cost. We would rely on the feedback from employers. In view of the importance of project management in India, it is our target to increase the Certification in Project Management credential holders by a growth rate of 2.5% annually.
- 2. Create and offer world class certifications for step by step up-gradation of project management professionals’ credentials through their complete life cycle. We would measure the number of students who have progressively moved from Certificate in Project Management to higher level of certifications and or diploma programs. We would like at least 10% CIPM credential holders to acquire higher level diploma in project management on an annual basis.
- 3. Use of technology to deliver our services globally transparently, fully maintaining the tenets of integrity, impartiality, confidentiality and professionalism. We would measure it by deploying certification exams through Internet media. We have deployed the random generation techniques to generate the questions for the examination. We would continue to improve the CAB efficiency ensuring that the time taken to declare results are improved by 5%. We would introduce one element of modern technology in our certification processes on an annual basis.
- 4. Regularly upgrade our tools and techniques to maintain our certifications globally relevant and maintain the certification quality high. We will continuously monitor the state of the project management including case studies and adopt the same in our syllabus impacting the question bank and its application to the candidates. (Deployment plan feedback etc. excellent – based on the syllabus). At present, our certification is the only one globally with negative 25% of the wrong answers. In next 5 years, the negative marking % will be increased to 33% making it globally most robust. We will continuously monitor the state of the project management by at least once in two years attending global seminar or conference. Based on the industry feedback and interaction at a global level, we will also suggest to SO to include more scenario based questions and to incorporate new questions reflecting the new trends. We would measure by at least suggesting one new idea per year.
- 5. Establish and maintain linkages at national and global level, creating the focus on professionalism in project management and meeting the expectations of policy makers. We would on a regular basis collaborate with the international bodies involved in projects and programs including risk management. We would at least attend or host one conference or seminar with participation from leaders of the profession at a global level.
